At the examination the colored element was strongest, and several officers of the Lebanon cemetery were present. Two keys were found on McNamee that fitted the doors in the room where the bodies were found for dissection, at the Jefferson College. McNamee de-nied all knowledge as to be the Black nied all knowledge as to who gave them to him, or what he was to have done, but finally he said he had waited outside the cemetery while the others brought the bodies, and that he knew where they came from. Robert Chew, when arrested at the cemetery, about 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning, began crying, and said he was paid $3 for every body taken from the cemetery, and the money was handed him by his brother. He did not know how many graves had been robbed. Sometimes Pillett did the digging, and sometimes Levy. He had been in the cemetery eleven years, and the body snatching had been going on for nine years. His brother-in-law, Solomon Butcher, now in Maryland, did it first, then a man named Myers, then McNamee. Sometimes a wagon came, and the driver said they were Coffins were opened receiving vault and the was snatched. The farce body was snatched. The rarce of burying the empty coffin, was gone through with next day.

The records of burial showed in two months that fifty-five bodies were in one grave, and this statement created a sensation among the audience. Upon the conclusion of the testimony, the defendants were committed in default of $5000 bail for a further hearing on Friday. As soon as the crowd outside learned that the examination was over, an overwhelming rush was made for the entry and gate-way, with threats to lynch the prisoners. A sergeant and ten men of the reserve were sent for, and the snatchers then brought out. The crowd made another rush, and men and women struck at the prisoners, who cowered before them. Policemen drew their clubs and on a trot went down Chestnut street to the Central station, where the prisoners were
